

Walk to Work

26 April 2007

Wouldn't it be great if you could arrive at work with a spring in your step, feeling energised for the day ahead? Well you can - simply by walking to work.

That's the message Living Streets and Transport for London want to give everyone with Walking Works.

The campaign kicks off on Thursday 26 April with London's first ever Walk to Work day. We want you to get involved and tell everyone about the benefits of walking to work.
